

Microwave Photonics

Microwave Photonics provides a suite of products that for the first time enable switched wireless infrastructure, offering operators deep cost savings and breakthrough flexibility in cellular equipment deployments, upgrades, and ongoing network management. The Company's award winning AgilWAVE platform includes the only proven, carrier-grade RF switch technology available today and a signal distribution system optimized for switched architectures. Please visit www.microwavephotonics.com